Spiritual Hunger...

Harvest in the Outback

"The HARVEST is plentiful, but the workers are few... Pray to send forth workers..." Matt. 9:37-38

Pioneering mission work here in this remote Australian outback, the question most frequently asked is, "Are the people receptive to your ministry?" The answer is a resounding, "YES!" We have come to affectionately use a phrase describing the Indigenous peoples of this region, the "First Responders." From the day we were "dropped in the center" in 2016 until today... ANYTIME we announce a healing meeting, an evangelistic outreach, a Holy Spirit conference or just a church service... the vast majority of seekers who show up are Aboriginal.

The love God has put in our hearts for these amazing, unique tribes goes beyond words. Not only do they have an immense hunger for the move of God's Spirit but an uncanny sensitivity to the spirit realm.

We are no longer surprised hearing stories from Aboriginal people seeing angels, visions, spiritual dreams and even near-death experiences in Heaven.

This has been a much longer and more challenging assignment than we imagined. Plowing the ground, making divine connections, gaining understanding and favor with so many diverse people groups and languages... Building a foundation of FAITH and the WORD... all of this in a small remote town riddled with youth crime and dark spiritual strongholds. Through it all God has been FAITHFUL!

Pastor Gerald and I are acutely aware that the task of reaching this HARVEST is far beyond our abilities and our giftings. He is calling an army to this HARVEST field. No where in the over 40 countries on 6 continents have we found a region more ripe for HARVEST. Join us as we PRAY in the Workers...

Harvest Mission Internship...

Cross-Cultural Training for World Missions

"Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation."

Mark 16:15

There is a tremendous HARVEST to be reached here in the out-back of Central and South Australia. Over these past seven years the main cry of our hearts to Heaven has been to call in the WORKERS. Calling forth those God has called, anointed, and equipped for this Harvest field. It is extremely rare for an Indigenous person here to reject the gospel, but many have not heard the gospel preached or preached accurately. They are HUNGRY and know how to discern the true move of the Holy Spirit. Many have visited our meetings and exclaimed... "I can feel God here... I didn't feel God at such-and-such church." There have been "sparks" of revival over the years in several of the more than 100 Aboriginal communities spread out in remote arid regions of the NT and South Australia... accessible down hundreds of kms of dusty, red dirt roads.

This month HTM Australia is able to announce some exciting news. The Harvest Mission Internship Program is officially launched. A long time in the making, covid put a real damper on being able to move this forward. NOW we are able to advance under God's direction. This internship allows individuals of all ages who feel a call to missions or want to experience more of world missions to have on-the-ground training... working with many diverse tribes and languages. The Aboriginal cultures of this region are believed to be the oldest living cultures in the world... one group from the Pintibi tribe, had no contact with the outside world until 1984... living their nomadic life in the desert. These tribes live in communities (similar to native American reserves) spread out over the arid wilderness. Most of the communities have a few hundred individuals, some believers, living with no functioning church or church leadership. Most have had little to no teaching of the Word of God. Pastors Gerald & Kathy, with over three decades experience as missionaries... spending time in over 40 nations... desire to pour much of what they have learned into others called to the great commission. There are openings for a ONE MONTH, THREE MONTH or SIX MONTH mission internship. The mission interns will have unique opportunities to be involved in youth/children's ministry, evangelistic outreaches, discipleship & Bible studies, praise and worship, preaching, ministry in Aboriginal communities, cross-cultural training and much more. PRAY about taking advantage of this unique opportunity for world Missions.
